

PRAYING INTO EASTER

April 2

Focus for Today:

Every day our affection, adoration, devotion, honor and reverence are given to something or someone. Who or what do you worship? All too often our devotion lies with the things of this world. But when we see God for who He really is, worship is true and spontaneous. You may want to take some time to reflect on your view of God and who He is. Consider asking God to expand your view of Him to more clearly match who He is.

Daily Scripture:

Psalms 29:2: Honor the LORD for the glory of his name. Worship the LORD in the splendor of his holiness.

Prayer Example:

Father God, I come before You and recognize that my view of You is sometimes small and limited. My view of You does not always reflect who You truly are. Help me to expand my view of The One who created everything and cares for everyone. Enable me to grow in my ability to ascribe to You the glory, magnificence and honor due to Your name.
